In floral design, pave is a technique of placing groups of plant material that have been cut short, close together to form undulating mounds of colours, textures, shapes and sizes. Any plant material, e.g., flowers, foliage, cut stems, fruits, vegetables, moss, etc., may be used. In jewelry making pave is a term that refers to setting stones so close together that no metal shows.

Water-viewing

A traditional line design, adapted in Canada in the 1960s, with a dominant line of plant material and great use of space, in a shallow container with $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{2}{3}$ of the container surface showing water. Modern line design does not fit this definition but could be used in a design calling for Visible Use of Water.

(Source: Ontario Judging and Exhibiting Standards, 2019)

Visible Use of Water

A design that must include water that is clearly visible. Any design in which water is an important component. May be waterviewing, underwater, etc.

Design

A combination of fresh and/or dried plant materials, with or without other objects arranged to create an artistic unit. A design may include container(s), base(s), and/or accessories. The designer uses the elements of design: space, line, form, colour, texture and pattern in the accepted principles of design: balance, rhythm, proportion, scale, contrast and dominance to interpret the theme and/or class and create a design of harmony and distinction.
